Between craft and code.

I've been a product designer for 14 years, with time at some of Brazil's largest research and technology centres — Samsung, Microsoft, ClearSale and Eldorado. I started in research and discovery, and learned to design products from data and real user behaviour.

Today, as co-founder and CTO of RISE, I run the whole journey: from art direction to a page that's live, measured and wired into the CRM. I combine creative judgement with technical depth — so I ship the thing working, producing results, without waiting on a development queue.

Five disciplines, one delivery.

01

Branding & Print

Visual identity, positioning and brand systems applied from print to web.

02

UX/UI & Product Design

Discovery, journeys, wireframes and interfaces validated with real users.

03

Landing Pages & Web

Acquisition pages end to end: hero, narrative, hierarchy, art direction and conversion — built, measured and shipped.

04

Marketing & CRM

Lead generation, qualification, automation and integrations that close the loop.

05

Research & R&D

A decade inside R&D centres: method, hypothesis and validation.

Design, powered by AI.

What sets a senior apart today isn't only range — it's speed without losing the craft. I use AI, data and code at every step. What AI doesn't decide: hierarchy, what to cut, and what the page needs to say.

Research & synthesis with AI

Discovery and qualitative analysis accelerated with LLMs, without giving up rigour.

Art direction

Palette, type pairing, scale and rhythm. AI generates variations; the choice is mine.

Ideation & prototyping

Variations generated and iterated in hours — directions validated early and cheaply.

Decisions from data

SQL, GA4, GTM, Clarity and Hotjar to decide on evidence, not opinion.

System & performance

Design tokens and reusable components, Core Web Vitals and accessibility handled from the first file.

From design to code

I prototype and I ship: HTML/CSS/JS, GitHub, Vercel and Supabase. The product goes live instead of staying in Figma.

End-to-end products.
